Transcript

[Person 1]: I don't know where the question is, but I don't know where this one is.

[Person 2]: Well, when I ask you a question, the first one?

[Person 2]: Right.

[Person 2]: What is the worst thing about being young?

[Person 1]: Well, you get lots of homework.

[Person 1]: It's also pretty delightful in the middle, like in school. I'm good at that for now.

[Person 1]: What is the worst thing about being old?

[Person 2]: Not being able to do things that you could do when you were young.

[Person 1]: Like, you can't bend down and get stuff on the floor?

[Person 2]: Well, I can still do that.

[Person 2]: But the problem is your body gets a bit stiff.

[Person 1]: No, I know it hurts a lot when you don't.

[Person 2]: That's right, yes.

[Person 2]: You might get sick more often.

[Person 2]: Hopefully I don't.

[Person 2]: But that's the problem.

[Person 1]: It is pretty bad.

[Person 2]: It is pretty bad.

[Person 1]: The only time I want to be old is for my mom to give me birth.

[Person 2]: Oh yeah, do you wish you were old?

[Person 1]: Maybe. When I'm so old, I can voice stuff from my own and have faith and get married but love you.

[Person 1]: Do you wish you were young?

[Person 2]: Well, the great thing about being young is that you have more time.

[Person 2]: You have more time to do things. I could play games, like cowboys and Indians.

[Person 1]: Yeah, that's what I played.

[Person 2]: Do you?

[Person 1]: Yes. That's what I liked about being young.

[Person 2]: I could use my imagination more.

[Person 1]: That's the story.

[Person 1]: I can't get any better than that.

[Person 2]: Well, I could be an older cowboy.

[Person 2]: Am I a chef?

[Person 2]: Will you fall in love?

[Person 2]: And what will it be like?

[Person 1]: I don't know. Like with a baby, it'll be fun all the time.

[Person 1]: Even though all hard to change is like, it'll be fun.

[Person 1]: But what about the cries?

[Person 2]: Oh, well...

[Person 1]: It doesn't last here and do it much.

[Person 2]: And who do you love now?

[Person 1]: My mom.

[Person 2]: Your mom?

[Person 1]: I like my family. Did you fall in love? What was it like?

[Person 2]: Yes, it was different for me. I fell in love late.

[Person 1]: And did you get married?

[Person 2]: No, unfortunately, my partner passed away; she died, unfortunately.

[Person 2]: That's the same thing. She got sick.

[Person 1]: I'm gonna try.

[Person 2]: No, no, no, don't. No, no, no. These things happen and show us that life is important. But we have very good memories. You can remember all the good things, which are the important things.

[Person 2]: Well, the advice I would give to you, Sean, is that you don't have to be rich to be happy. Do the things you like doing that make you feel good because when you're happy yourself, everybody else is happy.

[Person 0]: Hey, Sean, do you have advice for your dad?

[Person 1]: To act normal. Don't be silly and bully lots of people. Whenever he gets hurt, I hug him. I might not be able to work.

[Person 2]: Oh, that's good advice. And be yourself. Don't let other people tell you what you should be. Just be as you are. Isn't that true?

[Person 1]: Yeah.

[Person 2]: And I'm sure your life is going to be very successful. You have all the right things and keep those friends going.

[Person 0]: There you go.