[Person 1]: I don't know where the question is, but I don't know where this one is.

[Person 2]: Well, when I ask you a question, the first one?

[Person 2]: Right.

[Person 2]: What is the worst thing about being young?

[Person 1]: Well, you get lots of homework.

[Person 1]: It's also pretty good in the middle, like in school, like in the middle; I'm good.

[Person 1]: What is the worst thing about being old?

[Person 2]: Not being able to do things that you could do when you were young.

[Person 1]: Like, you can't bend down and get stuff on the floor?

[Person 2]: Well, I can still do that.

[Person 2]: But the problem is your body gets a bit stiff.

[Person 1]: No, I know it hurts a lot when you don't.

[Person 2]: That's right, yes.

[Person 2]: You might get sick more often.

[Person 2]: Hopefully I don't.

[Person 2]: But that's the problem.

[Person 1]: It is pretty bad.

[Person 2]: It is pretty bad.

[Person 1]: The only time I want to have was when my mom got me born.

[Person 2]: Oh yeah, do you wish you were old?

[Person 1]: Maybe, like so old and I can voice stuff from my own experience and have faith and be married but love you.

[Person 1]: Do you wish you were young?

[Person 1]: Why?

[Person 2]: Well, the problem about the great thing about being young is that you have more time.

[Person 2]: You have more time to do things.

[Person 2]: I could play games, which I did.

[Person 2]: I used to play cowboys and Indians.

[Person 1]: Yeah, that's what I played.

[Person 2]: Do you?

[Person 2]: Yeah.

[Person 2]: That's what I like about being young.

[Person 2]: I could use my imagination more.

[Person 1]: That's the story.

[Person 1]: I can't get any more.

[Person 2]: Well, I could be an older cowboy.

[Person 2]: Am I a chef?

[Person 2]: Will you fall in love?

[Person 2]: And what will it be like?

[Person 1]: I don't know.

[Person 1]: Like with a baby, it will be fun all the time and hard to change.

[Person 1]: Even though everything is hard to change, it'll be fun.

[Person 1]: But what about the cries?

[Person 2]: Oh, well...

[Person 1]: It doesn't last here much.

[Person 2]: And who do you love now?

[Person 2]: My mom.

[Person 1]: Your mom?

[Person 2]: Your dad?

[Person 1]: I like my family.

[Person 1]: Did you fall in love?

[Person 1]: What was it like?

[Person 2]: Yes, it was different for me.

[Person 2]: I fell in love late.

[Person 1]: And did you get married?

[Person 2]: No, unfortunately, my partner passed away.

[Person 2]: That was the same thing.

[Person 2]: Yeah, she got sick.

[Person 1]: I'm gonna try.

[Person 2]: No, no, no, don't.

[Person 2]: No, no, no.

[Person 2]: No, no, no.

[Person 2]: It's these things that happen and show you life.

[Person 2]: That's life.

[Person 2]: But we have very good memories.

[Person 2]: Very good memories.

[Person 2]: And you live on them.

[Person 2]: And often the time you live in your head with memories.

[Person 2]: You can remember all the good things.

[Person 2]: And that's the important thing.

[Person 2]: Well, the advice I would give to you, Sean, is you don't have to be rich to be happy.

[Person 2]: Do the things you like doing that make you feel good.

[Person 2]: Because when you're happy yourself, everybody else is happy.

[Person 0]: Hey, Sean, do you have advice for your dad?

[Person 1]: To act normal.

[Person 1]: Don't be silly.

[Person 1]: Don't bully lots of people.

[Person 1]: The people I know in school, like my friend out in school,

[Person 1]: Whenever he gets hurt, I hug him.

[Person 1]: I might not be able to work.

[Person 2]: Oh, that's good advice.

[Person 2]: And be yourself.

[Person 2]: Don't let other people tell you what you should be.

[Person 2]: Just be as you are.

[Person 2]: Isn't that true?

[Person 1]: Yeah.

[Person 2]: And I'm sure your life is going to be very successful.

[Person 2]: You have all the right things.

[Person 2]: You have all the right things to do.

[Person 2]: All your good friends.

[Person 2]: And keep those friends going.

[Person 2]: And keep life going.

[Person 0]: There you go.
